SALESMANSHIP

The Students of the Phoenix High School have launched a course in salesmanship which is provided by The Curtis Publishing Company of Philadelphia. This course has been conducted through more than 7000 schools and has the endorsement of some of the country's leading educators.

Mr. Bailey, Vocational Director for this district, delivered a very interesting lecture, explaining the need for knowledge of salesmanship and demonstrating the principles of selling. Some very worthwhile instructions was gained from this lecture and the students will follow it up with actual sales work securing subscriptions for the Country Gentleman this week outside of the school hours.

The sales earnings will go towards the purchase of Athletic Equipment which the school wants very much. The school is divided into two teams, the Maggie with Jeannette Sheets as leader, and the Jiggs with Dorothea McClain as leader. Keen rivalry has developed between the opposing sides.

EDITORIAL

It will be noticed that the names of the new staff is printed in this issue of the Blue and White. This is Mr. Milam's idea of helping the work and activities that overlap into the following year.

Such things are given due consideration so that the students that come back here will have some experience in the activities that are to be carried on.

For example the students who are to be Seniors next year are receiving training in putting on a play and the new paper staff is trained to put out a paper.

Every student is given a chance to show his or her ability in some line. By this method the pupil can see what he or she is best fitted for and it is up to the pupil to grasp the opportunities afforded right here in our own High School.

Every thing is done to teach the children management because that is becoming more and more the way of progress in this world. For that reason Mr. Milam looks into the future and educates his coming workers so the activities may be carried right on the following year without a break.

STAFF NOTES.

The members of the former Staff of the Blue and White wish to thank the patrons of the school and especially the business men of Phoenix who greatly aided in the publication of the school paper, by the interest shown and the support given. We feel that without this help our school paper could not have been a success.

SOME MORE OF JOSEPH'S ABSENT-MINDEDNESS

At the Christian Endeavor Banquet while eating our second course of ice-cream and cake we noticed the girls across from us were watching Joseph pretty close and Joseph observed this too but seeing nothing wrong he kept on eating.

As he went to lay his spoon down Lo! and Behold! it was his fork. He had eaten his ice-cream with his fork.

We don't blame them for watching him. Do you?

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

On the evening of March 28 a birthday dinner was given in honor of Miss Dorothea McClain's eighteenth birthday at her home in Phoenix. Those present were: Mildred Hughes, Dorothea McClain, Margaret Mote, Bernette Sheets, Elsie Edwards, Mildred Ward, Andrew Stevens, Arlet Anderson, Floyd Watkins, Glenn Nichols, Harold von der Hellen and John Rice.

At 6:45 the guests were served a delicious birthday dinner.

After dinner they played a number of games until 9:30 when the guests departed, having had a very lovely evening, and promising to return a year later to Dorothea's 19th birthday dinner.

FIRST BASEBALL GAME

The girls have, after trying so long, got to play a Baseball Game. This was with Jacksonville at Jacksonville, Friday evening March 23.

While the girls played Baseball the boys played Tennis. Our girls beat the J'ville girls by the total of 26 to 11.

The boys were also winners in the Tennis but our girls lost in Tennis. We are hoping to play many more games soon.

C. E. B.N. UET

Elsie Edwards, Marjorie and Elva Caster, Edna Hilderbrand, Joseph Angell and the Gore Girls attended the C. E. Banquet at Medford Thursday evening March 29.

A very delightful banquet was served at 7:00 and after this while at the table the different C.E.'s sang little songs.

After the supper we went to another room where songs were sang and Mr. Hamilton gave a very interesting talk.

Many Christian Endeavors were represented.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS ON APRIL FOOLS DAY.

On April 1, a birthday dinner was given in the honor of Earl Anderson's 22nd birthday at the home of Mrs. Otto Caster.

Those present were:

Edna West, Marjorie Woods, Elsie Edwards, Elva and Marjorie Caster, John Rice, Earl Anderson, Arlett Anderson, Glenn Nichols, and Tommy Caster.

A delightful birthday dinner was served about 1:30. Since it was too stormy to go flower picking, as was planned, the guests spent the afternoon at the house.

They departed about 5:30.

Man is a "worm of the dust."
He comes along, wiggles about a while and finally some chicken gets him.

Up to Date
She--"Did you meet any Stage Robbers while you were out West?"
He--"Yes, I took a couple of Chorus girls out for dinner."

Andrew--"What is the cause of so many divorces?"
Margaret--"Marriages."

EN ROUTE.

It was a very long and sleepless night that I spent, during which I had been unmercifully tossed about by the rocking boat. I felt that it was next to a miracle that the boat had not gone down. George and I were amply supplied with life preservers yet the waves in that storm would soon have beat us to death, even had we been fortunate enough to launch a lifeboat.

Early the next morning we arrived at Juneau. I was awake when we docked and as soon as I realized that the strain of that night of terror was over and we were safely tied up, I relaxed and went to sleep.

Quite sometime afterwards I heard a loud bang at my door. The severity of the weather had prompted me to remain dressed the night before and so, slipping into my heavy over-coat I was ready to answer the door. As I opened it, I was greeted with a "Halloa! Happy Birthday!"

It was the Captain, and his big "bass trombone" voice was hoarse and deep. His long cold watch the night before had been about all he could stand. His eyes were swollen and blood-shot from loss of sleep and the bitter cold wind and sleet that cut through the pilot-house and swept the bridge where he had paced up and down; giving orders for the safety of his ship. He handed me two parcels which, on closer inspection, proved to be a large box of candy and a pair of beautiful seal-skin moccasins. After I had thanked him, he told me that we were at Juneau and, if I cared to, I could go on shore and walk around.

(to be continued in the next issue)

Elsie Edwards--"Why is a cat's tail like the world?"

Marjorie Caster--"It's fur to the end."

When you come to the end of your rope tie a knot in it and hang on.
